Over the past 30 years, the Vicky Noon Education Foundation (VNEF) has supported more than 230 brilliant young Noon Scholars to study at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge in the UK.

The Trustees are now eager to reach out to all past Noon Scholars, to learn more about their subsequent careers, how they may have helped Pakistani development, and to help build a network for their mutual benefit.

We know our founder, Vicky Noon, had the dream that successful Noon Scholars return to Pakistan to contribute to the country's development and the wellbeing of the society and its citizens. We can further these aims by developing a successful network and enabling future scholars to follow in their footsteps.

We plan to establish a new Noon Alumni Society out of this reunion, and will be looking for key volunteers to take up posts for this society. The event will be a two-day workshop around the themes of university, education, ideas and leadership, with significant and exciting keynote speakers and participants.

Our last major series of events in Pakistan was in 2006, when we hit our 100th award. It is high time to renew our links and friendships. If you can help with support, arrangements or ideas please get in touch the usual way.
